Catch Phrase: 'When I tell Buffy's Little Sister, who is also 'my' little sister, a bedtime story- it goes like this- Once Upon a Time, The End.' Hhhhehhh hehhh hehhhh (trouble maker laugh)

Attitude/ History/ Background/ Relationships:

Super snarky, sarcastic, super curious and wants to do make chemistry experiments ALL the time. She is constantly making plans and convoluted schemes- that do not always go as planned. She keeps looking for lead pieces in local junkyards and on Craig's list online, so she can melt them in a pot on the stove and make little troll figurines. She likes to melt lead as much as possible and start small fires, because she likes the color red- for obvious reasons (BEING A REDHEAD). She is the middle child and loves Buffy's Little Sister and her older sister, Buffy. She loves to make prank phone calls and she will pick up old yellow page books- from abandoned phone booths and just start calling all the numbers. She does have a script for her prank calls though.

Motivation:

Ultimately, she feels that GINGERS should take over the world. She created a fake club called The Middle Sisters Support Group, where she is secretly recruiting for members to help her carry out her plot to power. They post cute puppy photos in disguise, but it's all in recruitment code. She wants to replace all schoolbook content with the color red, so that everyone will see red more often, become more familiar and comfortable with the color red and then they will start choosing red-headed people for positions of power subconsciously. That's the plan. Will it work, that remains to be seen.

Vocal Dynamics (Phrasing, Pacing, Musicality):
